

there is already too few broadcast owners. This limits the choices to our (The Public's) airwaves. The ability for fewer owners to control more of our elections and the way our lives are patterned after what is broadcast from those owners is just a very fearful reason the FCC should further limit percentages of viewer ownership